How to add lap infant to American flight ticket after booking

American Airlines Infant Policy: How to Add Your Baby to an Existing Ticket

Traveling with an infant on American Airlines? Whether you're planning ahead or need to add a baby to an existing reservation, understanding the airline's infant policy is crucial. Here's everything you need to know about flying with a lap infant or booking a separate seat for your baby on American Airlines +1-855-485-0341(USA)

American Airlines Infant Policy Overview

American Airlines allows infants under the age of 2 to travel as lap infants without requiring a separate ticket. Parents also have the option to purchase a seat for the infant if they prefer a car seat for added safety. Here are some key points:

Lap Infant (Under 2 Years Old): Infants can travel on an adult's lap for free on domestic flights and for a fee on international flights.

Seat Purchase Option: Parents can choose to buy a separate seat for their infant and use an FAA-approved car seat.

Age Requirement: Infants must be at least 7 days old to travel.

Ticketing for International Flights: Even for lap infants, a ticket is required for international travel, usually at a percentage of the adult fare.

First Class & Economy Considerations: Infants are allowed in all cabin classes, including First Class and Economy, but bassinets are only available in certain cabins on select international flights.

How to Add an Infant to an Existing American Airlines Reservation

If you've already booked your ticket but need to add your baby, American Airlines provides several ways to do so.

1. Online via American's Website or call +1-855-485-0341(USA) (oTA)

Log in to your American Airlines account.

Navigate to "Manage Reservations."

Select your flight and look for the option to add a lap infant.

Follow the prompts to add your child's details.

2. Call American Airlines Customer Service

If the online option is unavailable or you're adding an infant to an international flight, call American Airlines Reservations at +1-855-485-0341(USA) (OTA).

Provide your booking reference and infant's details.

The representative will confirm any applicable fees or ticketing requirements.

3. At the Airport

If you haven't added your infant before arriving at the airport, you can do so at the check-in counter.

Be sure to bring necessary documentation (passport for international flights, birth certificate if proof of age is required).

Can You Add an Infant to First Class or Economy?

Yes! American Airlines allows lap infants in both First Class and Economy cabins (+1-855-485-0341(USA)). However, bassinets (known as SkyCots) are only available in certain premium cabins on international flights. If you're flying in First Class or Business Class on a domestic route, the infant will need to sit on your lap or in an FAA-approved car seat.

Booking a Seat for a Lap Infant

For extra comfort and safety, parents can choose to purchase a separate seat for their baby. If doing so:

The child must be secured in an FAA-approved car seat.

Standard baggage allowances apply for the infant's ticket.

Infant fares may be discounted depending on the route.

Additional Tips for Flying with an Infant

Check Baggage Allowances: American Airlines allows a diaper bag, stroller, and car seat to be checked free of charge.

Arrive Early: Give yourself extra time at the airport for check-in and security.

Request a Bassinet: Available on select long-haul flights in premium cabins.

Pack Essentials: Bring extra diapers, formula, and comfort items for the baby.

Final Thoughts

Adding an infant to your American Airlines reservation is a straightforward process that can be done online, over the phone +1-855-485-0341(USA) , or at the airport. Whether traveling in Economy or First Class, understanding American's infant policies ensures a smoother journey
